FOUNDER'S MESSAGE

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to our inaugural Art In Action (AIA) art carnival.

Inspired by Britain's Art in Action festival at Waterperry Gardens and Arts in Your Neighborhood by the National Arts Council Singapore, AIA aims to strengthen the sense of community, cultivate interest in pursuing art, and feature emerging artists in Singapore.

Join us for 9 days of festivities from 17th June 2023 to 25th June 2023 as we showcase 58 artworks from our artists at Broadway II of Tzu Chi Humanistic Youth Centre to feature new and upcoming artists, of which 20 artworks come from artists in the Singapore Prison. Through our carefully curated artworks which are engaging and thought-provoking, we hope that you will be able to resonate with something that speaks to you and inspires you. Art tours will be conducted every half hour (starting at 10 am) to share information about the artworks and the artists.

#MeetArts as the event organiser is honoured to work and collaborate with our community partners: Nee Soon GRC, Singapore Prison Service, Yellow Ribbon, Canvas Art, and Playnting Pte Ltd., to create a truly magical experience for the community.

I look forward to embarking with you on this life changing journey of discovery and inspiration.

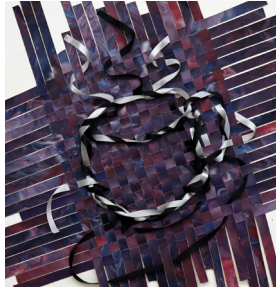

Warm regards,

Putting together this carnival would not be possible without the hard work of our fabulous team at #MeetArts, our visual artists, art workshop instructors: Queenie, Miliati, Mary and Khaitama, live art demonstrator Khaitama, Alan Tan and our community partners. We would also like to express our utmost gratitude to our Guest of Honour Ms Carrie Tan (Member of Parliament and Advisor to Nee Soon GRC Grassroots Organisation) and venue sponsor Tzu Chi Humanistic Youth Centre. Most importantly, we are grateful to you, our audiences who have continued to show your commitment and support for the arts.

ABOUT VISUAL ARTS HUB & YELLOW RIBBON

VISUAL ARTS HUB (SINGAPORE PRISON SERVICE)

In line with the Singapore Prison Service's mission to rehabilitate offenders for a safer Singapore, the Visual Arts Hub (VAH) was set up in Changi Prison Complex in 2009. VAH aims to give every inmate artist a blank canvas to re-paint his life, nurture his artistic potential, encourage creative insights and facilitate a positive change in mindset. Through the visual arts programme offered at VAH, inmate artists have the opportunity to unlock their potential and contribute to the community in meaningful ways.

YELLOW RIBBON SINGAPORE

Yellow Ribbon Singapore is a statutory board under the Ministry of Home Affairs which helps inmates and ex-offenders rebuild their lives and lower the recidivism rate through career and skills development, with an effective aftercare support network. Through championing second chances and rehabilitating ex-offenders, Yellow Ribbon Singapore hopes to achieve a safer and more inclusive Singapore where inmates and ex-offenders are adequately supported in their rehabilitation and reintegration journey.

The Journey

acrylic on canvas

76 x 102 cm

This artwork is an illustration of the artist's journey as he moves ahead into the future on the path he has chosen. The path, is surrounded by good and bad, happiness and sorrow. There will always be the temptation to stray, but at the same time, there are also good things to enjoy and appreciate on this journey.

It also serves as a reminder that though the future may be uncertain, it is important for him to remain steadfast and true to himself.

$519

Faith

acrylic on canvas

72 x 102 x 2 cm

Have faith, you should trust your talent. Develop them, forget the troubles of life while concentrating on the positives. The positive attitude will then lead you to a good destination.

$526

Playing it, brightly $333

My Cherish Angels

batik on rayon

52 x 82 cm (w/ frame)

46 x 76 cm (w/o frame)

Through this separation - (even though we are miles apart, we are always close at heart) - a great sense of her presence is strongly felt. Their unflinching support has caused a great impact in the artist's life. (Elder sister & daughter)

Twilight

acrylic on canvas

my choice.

$336

Unponding

acrylic on canvas

This is the artist's new year resolution. No matter where I am, there will always be negative friends who will influence me. So I have to make better choices and it has to start from myself.

learning from mistakes.

$102

Inspired by Picasso.
Get Well Soon.

$292 Nak Kopi Tak?

mixed media
102 x 76 x 1.5 cm

The question "Nak kopi tak?" (Would you like coffee?) was often thrown around in the artist's home, a question that serves as a prelude to the members of his family sitting together, sipping hot drinks and enjoying each other's company. There is also the time when the artist's parents were teaching him and his siblings how to weave the leaves to make ketupat, the last significant memory of a family bonding activity. As such, this artwork explores the concept of interaction and bonding. A painting was cut into strips and woven together, interacting in a way which forms a pattern akin to the ketupat. Black and white ribbons weave in and out of the artwork to form the shape of a coffee cup. Through this artwork, the artist is saying he misses home.

$384

Fearless

acrylic on canvas
76 x 102 cm

I have an extremely bad habit of using my past experiences to be authoritative over others, not knowing that my time is long overdue. I tend to behave like the tiger, protective of myself and snarl at people's shortcomings.

The one thing I have to learn from my example of being a tiger is to be patient as if I'm prowling on the hunt.

The Night Owl

batik on rayon
53 x 62 cm (w/ frame)
38 x 47 cm (w/o frame)

In the silent of the night, thoughts and vision are clear.

$319

Sincere Communication

pastel on canvas
61 x 61 x 1.5 cm

Silence is golden as sometimes spoken message is apt to be hopelessly confusing, especially when one's thoughts are being translated differently.

$251

The Fight Of Life

Life is like riding a bicycle, you need to keep your balance by continuing to paddle forward to your destination.

ABOUT AUBURNSKYE

I've always loved art as a child, but it was only in 2007, that I took a 3-month oil painting course at NAFA and met Mr Low Kim Chit, and proceeded to take more lessons from him over a year. This started my real love for canvas painting (using acrylic). Fast forward to 2017, almost a decade later - I was finding myself burnt out at work, wondering what I could do in life, and I decided to come back to painting.

Since then, I've found greater fulfillment in life, firstly through reconnecting with my love for painting from my younger days, and second, I see art now as a means to know myself and discover new ways of thinking. Art challenges me to see if I can do something differently each time I start on a new piece.

Besides the challenges, it is also pleasure. I find myself wanting to capture the beauty of a scene, just like photography – to immortalise it. I don't quite believe that art must always have a message, to me it is simply capturing beauty for beauty's sake. Now working as a freelance social media marketeer, I make time in between and dabble with acrylic and watercolour. My art style is realistic and I love the interplay of light and shadow, as well as scenes of nature.

I believe that by sharing my love for art, I can inspire others with the joy and beauty that art brings. It's an identity I'd like to grow old with.

EXHIBITIONS

Peace by Piece (Project Tetris) at Goodman Arts Centre, 2022

Finalist in the Angelico Art Awards 2022

Autumn Light

acrylic on canvas

18 x 24 in

$908

This piece is a scene from Autumn in Miyajima, Japan. I had visited this place after the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum, and the somber mood and sad feelings dissipated as I basked in the warm autumn sunlight on this sacred island that is known to be a Shinto shrine in itself, where till today no birth or death is allowed on the island. It is with hope that this scene can bring you some hope, warmth and peace. There's no rush. Just like the seasons, we pass from winter to spring, to summer, and hopefully by Autumn, as we look out from the shadows, the warm colours would beckon to us, to finally step out into the light.

Lone tree on Lavender field

acrylic on canvas

18 x 24 x 1.5 in

$908

It's just a single lone tree, vaguely in the shape of a heart, and it overlooks the lavender flowers. Perhaps it provides shade for the farmer, or visitors coming to view the lavender. Perhaps it wonders whether it can bear its own flowers. Such is life, we may be alone, but we don't have to be lonely. If we have love that can be shared to those around us, we will be a symbol of beauty and strength, set against a colourful sky.

Vernazza

acrylic on canvas
18 x 24 in

$1130

If it was 2021 I would have captioned this as “waiting for the time we can travel again”. But now as we open up from Covid-19, in Singapore, the caption is rather, “the crowds are back”!

Vernazza is a town and commune located in the province of La Spezia, Liguria, northwestern Italy. It is one of the five towns that make up the Cinque Terre region. Vernazza is the fourth town heading north, has no car traffic and remains one of the truest “fishing villages” on the Italian Riviera.

Vernazza’s name is derived from the Latin adjective verna meaning “native” and the aptly named indigenous wine, vernaccia, helped give birth to the village’s moniker.

The Camino Cat

acrylic on canvas

20 x 16 in

$908

Just a little cat nap on a trip in France! I met this sweet orange kitten at a little shelter for hikers, in July 2018 while walking The Camino ("Way of Saint James")'s French route (Le Puy to Conques). Every year, pilgrims set out to hike towards the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela in a popular trail known as the Camino de Santiago."

ABOUT ZHANG KAINI

Zhang Kaini was a Chinese language teacher before she met with a car accident which caused her to be paralysed from her shoulders down. She resolved not to allow herself to sink into a state of depression but to move on. She started to hold the brush between her teeth and taught herself to paint in 2006. Her paintings usually feature harmonious elements in nature depicted in bright, cheerful colours. Kaini is currently with the Association of Mouth and Foot Painting Artist Worldwide.

She has participated in many exhibitions and has also been interviewed by both local and overseas media numerous times. Her artworks are printed into cards and calendars which are distributed all over the world. In between doing all this, she has also given motivational talks in schools and hospitals to encourage others. Through her active participation in life and art, she hopes society at large will take notice and care more for physically challenged citizens like her.

“I CAN’T USE MY HANDS, but I paint, run my household, and raise my daughters” shares Zhang Kaini, in her 30s, who was paralysed from her shoulders down just four months after her second daughter was born. The glamorous accomplished mouth artist tells GEMMA KOH how she does it.

The artist has used vibrant colours and intricate details to create depth and intensity to the painting.

Life and love is a journey

oil paint on canvas

18 x 24 in

The couple represents us. The path with 2 walls of cliffs represents that the road may be narrow. The rocks and puddles of water represents that we may encounter obstacles in life. The woods means that there are always adventures in life. The waterfall represents "Everlasting life & wealth". The mountain top represents our objectives and goals. The birds flying in the sky means that there are always people who watch your successes and failures.

$439

Everlasting Wealth, Health and Life

oil on canvas

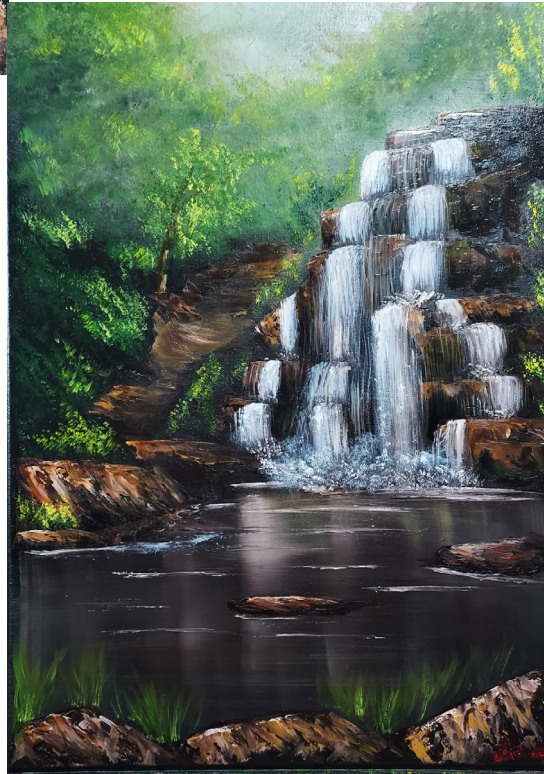

16.5 x 23.4 inches

Water is life and water is one of the best medicines for health.

When there is life and health, it will bring wealth. The cliff symbolises the pillar of support.

The greenery symbolises everlasting life . The reflection of the water symbolises that in life, at times we must reflect on what we have or are doing, thus making a self check constantly.

$439

The Choice

oil paint on stretched canvas
42 x 59 cm

Taking a forest to be representative of environment and society, the artist highlights how a river that divides is simultaneously an opportunity for one to exercise one's choice – to stay within their comfort zone or persevere and explore further. To this effect, the waterfalls one encounters is a joy to behold but representative of dangers as well.

$543

Always a blessing

oil paint on canvas
18 x 24 in

The sunrise reminds us everyday that we are so blessed to wake up to see a new day. The high cliff signifies that we must always look towards our goal. The asian pine tree standing on the cliff illustrates the importance of staying strong and standing tall.

Love and peace but not ruin

oil paint on canvas

acrylic

98 x 128 cm (w/ frame)

91 x 121 (w/o frame)

$1017

I really enjoyed painting the different sections of this piece and using texture and colours to create a pattern, almost a tapestry of my journey so far. The tree is the Supertree in Gardens By The Bay, but it also symbolizes the tree of life connecting all forms of creation. The different blocks of colour, texture, growth and leaves tell different parts of my story, my route, my dream of being a professional artist.

Mother's Love

acrylic

128 x 98 cm (w/ frame)

121 x 91 cm (w/o frame)

$1074

This painting is about a mother's love, as well as the nourishment and encouragement mothers give you throughout your life. The Orchid was my mother's favourite flower. In a more general sense, flowers also symbolize love. We buy flowers for loved ones in times of birth, marriage and death. I put the flowers in a circle to symbolize the circle of life and to bring the focus of the painting to the relationship between the mother and her young.

The artist learned to paint independently and started exploring her artistic side while taking portrait drawing classes in high school. She continued painting for her own entertainment and through occasional requests from family members after she entered university.

The artist has been chairing her company's Arts and Crafts special interest group since mid-2018 and has coordinated a charity event related to pandemics.

The artist's painting "Me and My Imaginary World" was awarded a Silver Award from the Asian Art Association in a World Charity Painting Competition in 2021.

“Belle” Colorful Flowers & Green Leaves

pour and mixed media acrylic on canvas, white wooden frame

16 x 20 in (w/o frame)

17 x 21 in (w frame)

Using acrylic pour art as the background, I created a 3D effect to highlight the lady's image using the glass beads acrylic as her leaves and flowery hat. Also, I used dried leaves and flowers together with iridescent acrylic paints. Sprayed with Glossy Varnish.

Pretty Mandarin Ducks

mixed media acrylic on canvas

18 x 24 in (w/o frame)

23 x 29 in (w frame)

A few layering acrylic paints together with acrylic medium, yarns, and cut-out Sakura flowers form the major scenery background. For the mandarin ducks, I used acrylic paints and medium, together with feathers, and black crystal stone as their eyes.

Towards Flourishing

mixed media acrylic on canvas resin coating

18 x 24 in

$735

The painting portrays the feeling of confidence and openness that comes with a nation leaving its old ways behind and trying something new. The background is a blue background with dripping paint that makes the feathers of the peacock stand out. The feathers are made up of 9 Joaquim Orchids, which are representative of the date of our National Day and our national flower, the Orchid. The threads representing the grassland are finely cut, and the painting is finished with a strong integrated identity that is watchful and inventive, in opposition to the uncertain horizon.

ABOUT QUEENIE KOU

Queenie Kou is a Singaporean artist whose art journey began as a child, where she spent many happy hours doodling and coloring.

In 1993, she completed a two-year Certificate of Western Art program at the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts. However, it remained a hobby. In 2015, Queenie decided to devote herself fully to painting, after a long hiatus because of work. She now paints from her studio in oil, acrylics, watercolour, pastel, colored pencils, alcohol ink as well and mixed media. Ever curious, Queenie approaches her art with a playful attitude and a deep desire to discover the ways different medium work to create what she wants to express. Her paintings could be described as realism based on abstract structures. Her works have been featured at several local and foreign exhibitions.

A qualified teacher with the Ministry of Education, her love for teaching has also led her to conduct art classes in Singapore for both the young and old, islandwide.
